1. What was the best aspect of the course?

What was the best aspect of the course?

The exercise sessions were quite nice. they were not superspecial or something in their setup, but it was good to have some participation pressure, so that it was more interactive and stimulating. Sometimes the exercises were not very relevant to the material though (if they were from holton directly). Also the lab was nice, but maybe a bit constrained in that we couldnt really make modifications to the model and try to understand how it really worked.

2. What improvements would you suggest in the course?

What improvements would you suggest in the course?

for the lab: if it was given a bit more focus and time, it could be very cool to increase the level and complexity, so that the actual physics in the model can be looked at in more detail, and then also the experiments and analysis will be more informed.
more generally, in my opinion, the lectures could be greatly improved upon. There was quite some material covered, many different concepts also, but the lectures did not contribute very much to thorough understanding of this all, they were quite superficial and if questions that maybe required some deeper knowledge were asked, answers were often not satisfactory. Maybe the lectures provided just enough information to pass the exam, but that shouldnt be the goal of a course, the goal should be to actually learn and understand something new.

Comment on the overall impression

I feel like this could have been a fantastic course, because there is so much interesting material, but the low quality of the lectures made it a rather frustrating experience.

Comment on the work load

ok-ish, but a bit unevenly distributed with the lab all the way at the end. more even spreading of lectures and starting the lab earlier wouldve been nice
